HAVE YOU BEEN DREAMING OF WRITING A BOOK? LEARN HOW TO GET IT PUBLISHED

Aspiring Author Workshop in Branson Hills on August 9th

If you were to take a poll, you'd find that a huge percentage of Americans dream of writing a book, but they have no idea how to navigate the complex world of publishing. On Saturday, August 9th, Dina Dove will be leading a free workshop for aspiring authors.

After 30 years as an entrepreneur and business owner, she completely changed her focus and became an author. By using the techniques she teaches, Ms. Dove sold her book, The Baglady's Guide to Elegant Living, to a major publisher in record time.

She will teach the audience:

- The power of a great title
- Tips on defining your market
- Writing the book proposal
- What publishers are looking for
- Developing your platform
- The value of literary agents and attorneys
- The best author resources

Location: Books A Million at Branson Hills
Book signing: 2-5 pm
Aspiring Authors Workshop: 7-9pm

About Dina Dove

Since the mid 1970s, Dina Dove has founded several businesses and co-authored two multi-media life-coaching programs. But it was the life-changing circumstances in her own life that inspired her to write her first fable, "The Baglady's Guide to Elegant Living." At forty-one she walked into an uncertain future; broke, newly divorced, with no job, no unemployment pay, $250,000 in debt and the IRS knocking at her door. Far from the tragic devastation that she expected, she stepped into the world empty and found a life that was magical beyond her wildest dreams. As a life coach, inspirational speaker, and workshop leader, Dina Dove is dedicated to helping others find the blessings hidden in their lives. Through the work she does, people remember who they really are at their deepest core and discover their unique path to personal fulfillment.
